Scenes Along The

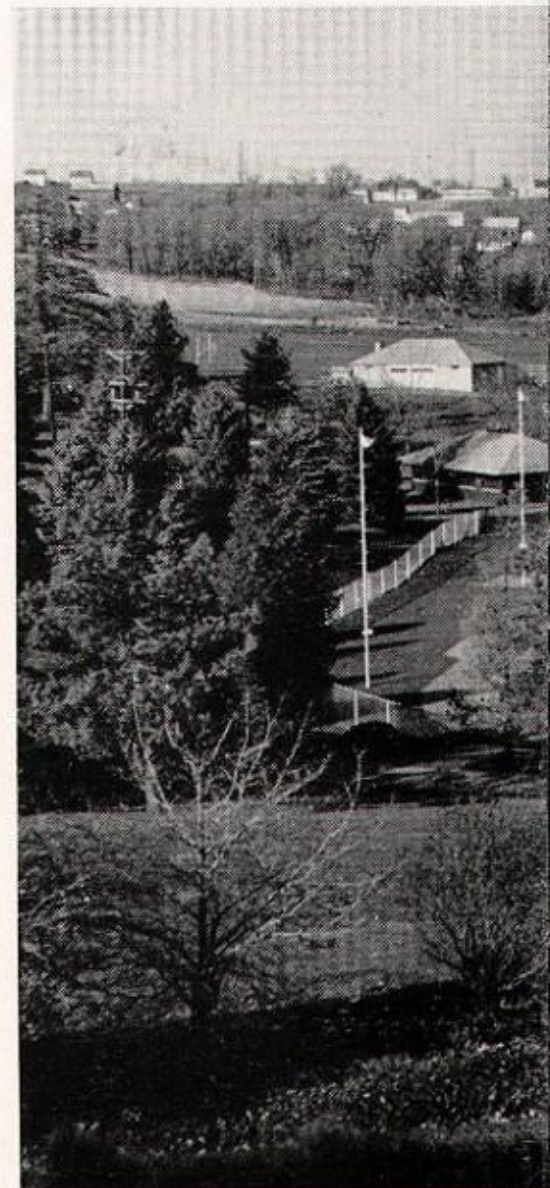

FOREWORD

Our OPEN ROAD begins in the Moravian community of Nazareth, settled in 1740. Here we work and play and worship.

To some of us the OPEN ROAD beckons to far horizons and great achievements; to others, to a happy family life in our own community. Whatever our destination, we have had three happy years along the OPEN ROAD at Nazareth Area Senior High School.

Following our football team, participating in the operetta, working out a difficult chemistry experiment, or struggling over a math problem or an English theme—all these will be cherished memories along our OPEN ROAD of the future.

SUPERINTENDENT OF COMMISSION

As Superintendent of the Highway Commission, Mr. Herbert F. Cobley is the chief administrative and supervisory officer responsible for coordinating the operations of the Area Joint High Schools.

Instrumental in upgrading and improving the curriculum for college-minded as well as for superior students, Mr. Cobley is interested in a developmental program that will meet the needs of the various types of students and provide an equal opportunity to all students from kindergarten through twelfth grade, encouraging students to reach their highest peak of achievement along the OPEN ROAD.

Our principal, Mr. Frederick C. Benfield, guides Nazareth Area Senior High School along the OPEN ROAD. Besides supervising the curriculum, student activities, and the building, Mr. Benfield is a friend and counselor to every student. He tries to resolve problems of students, teachers, and parents to the best of his ability.

During the past school year Mr. Benfield has been a co-ordinator and leader in the secondary school evaluation for which we are preparing.

CURRICULUM

As the student approaches the OPEN ROAD of senior high school, four possible courses lie before him — College Preparatory, Secretarial, General Business, and Practical Arts. His choice determines his future vocation.

Van
Hammel

Drawing Up The Blue Prints

1. Mr. William Grubbs, the representative from Pennsylvania State University, discusses courses of study with prospective college students on College Night, November 19.
2. Leaving for a future nurses' tea at St. Luke's Hospital in Bethlehem, Pa. on December 2, are a group of junior and senior girls.
3. As Harriet Stofflet, Labert Altemose, and Glenn Hertzog look on, Mr. Reichard shows them the results of their Iowa tests.

Studying Past And Present Roads

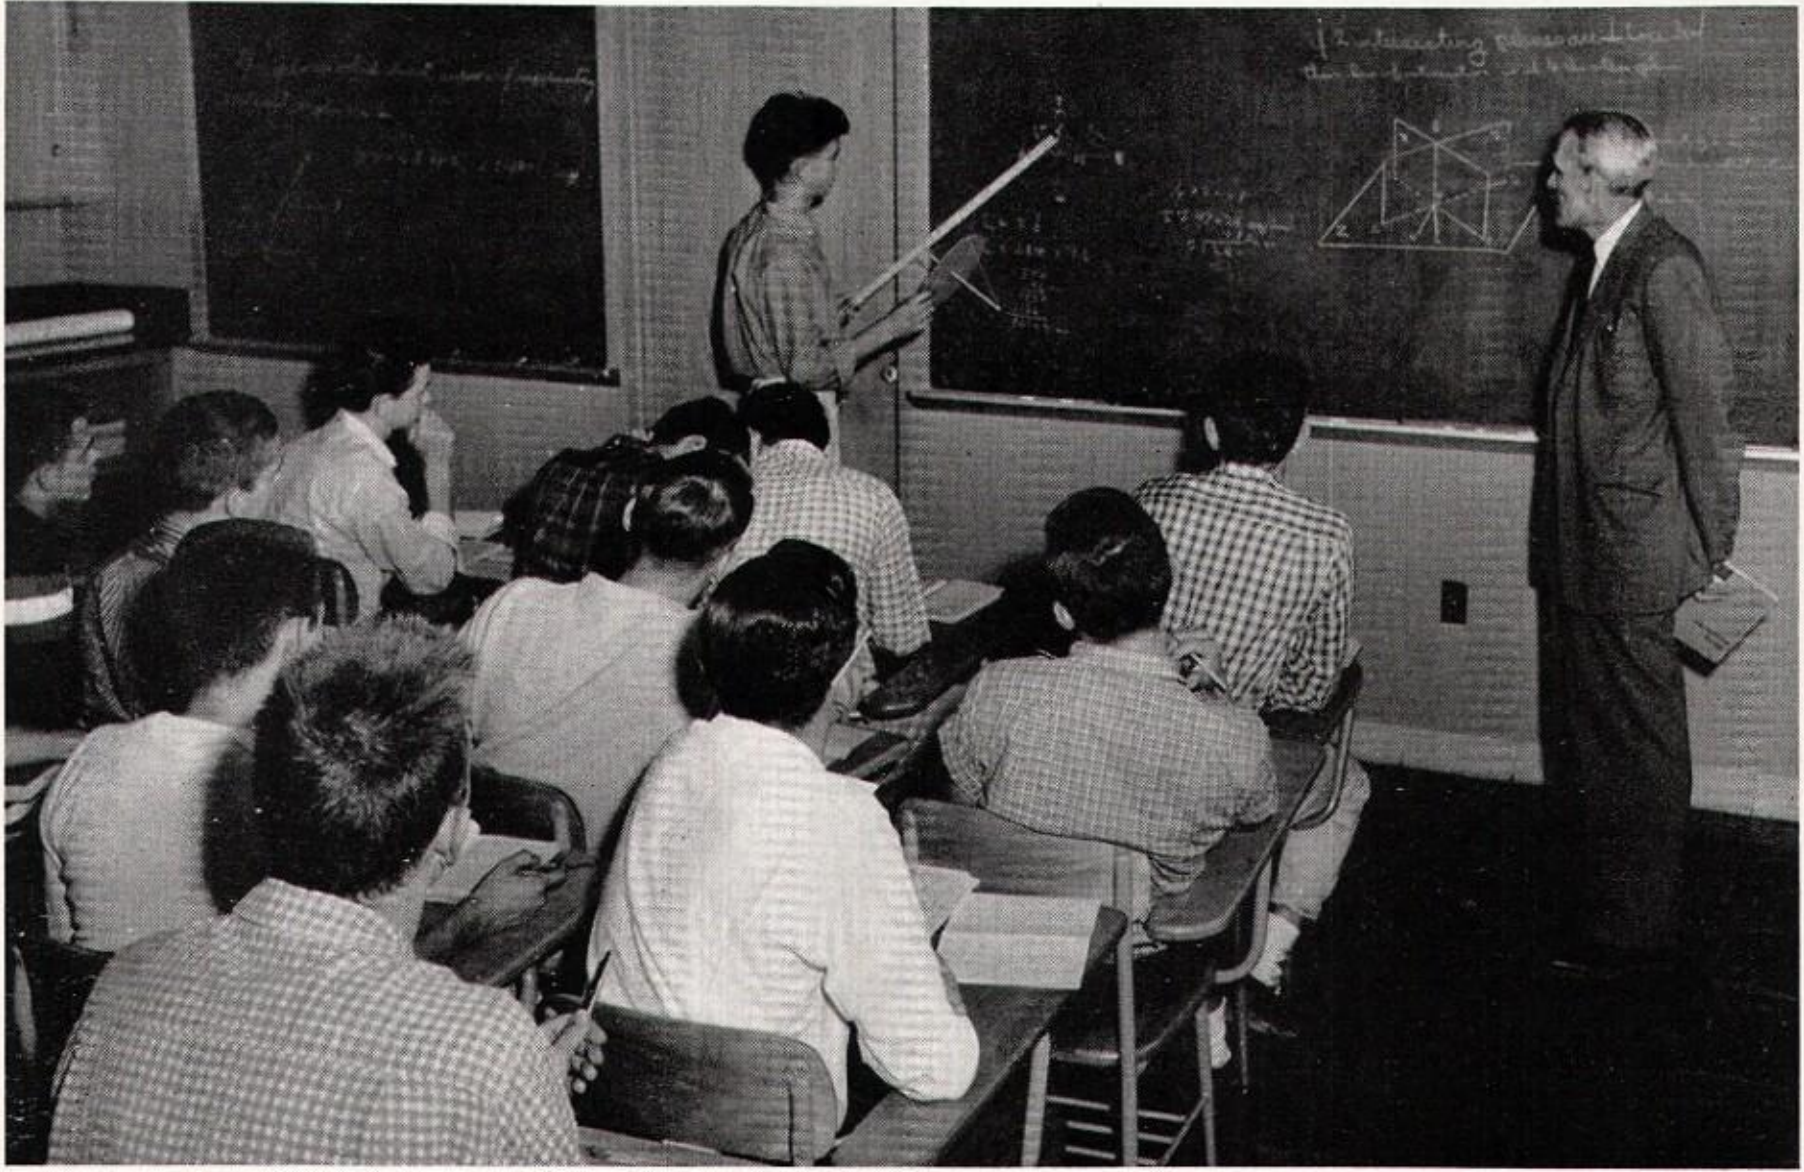

4. Using a picture graph, Mr. Schmoyer explains the progress of world civilizations to Carl Hallman, Susan Hooper, and Karen Monprode.

5. Under the supervision of Mr. Zell, senior P. D. students prepare to leave for the Model United Nations Assembly at Liberty High School in Bethlehem.

6. Mrs. Zell points out the original thirteen colonies to a Junior American History class.

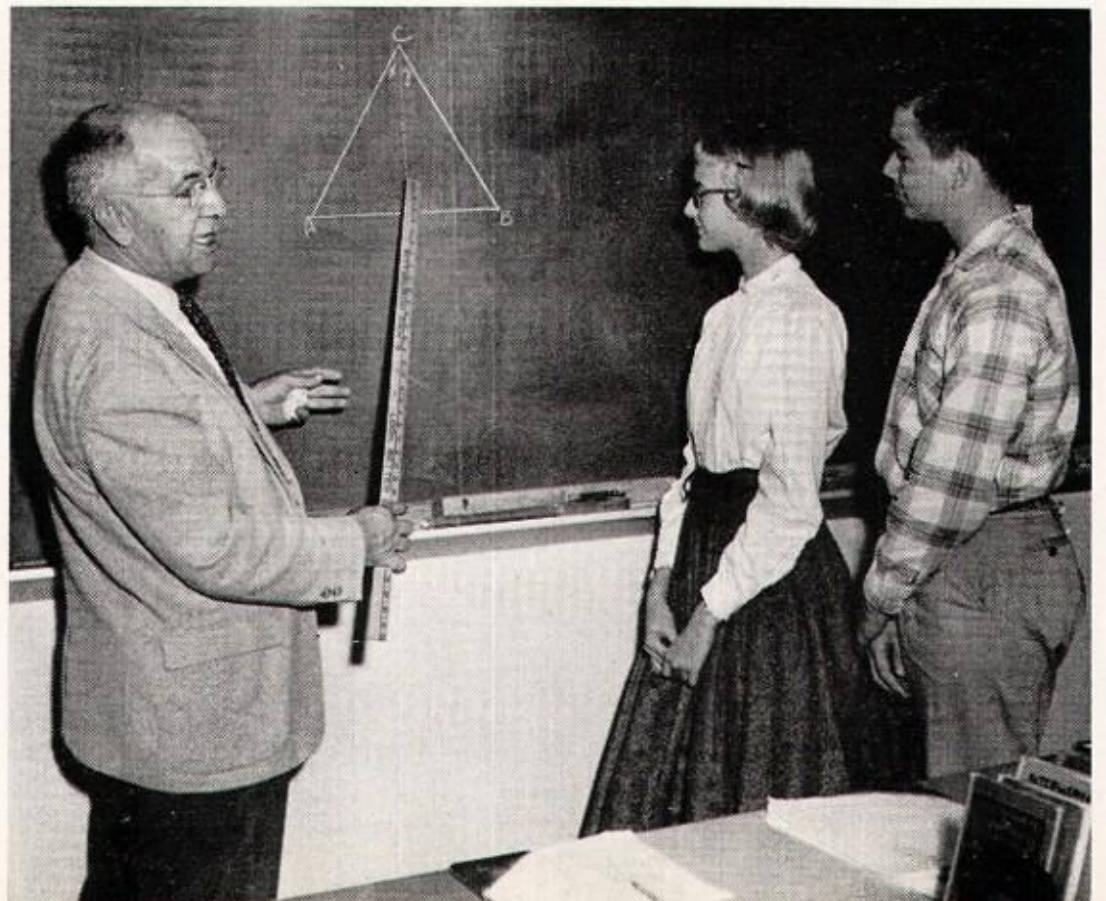

Exploring The Road

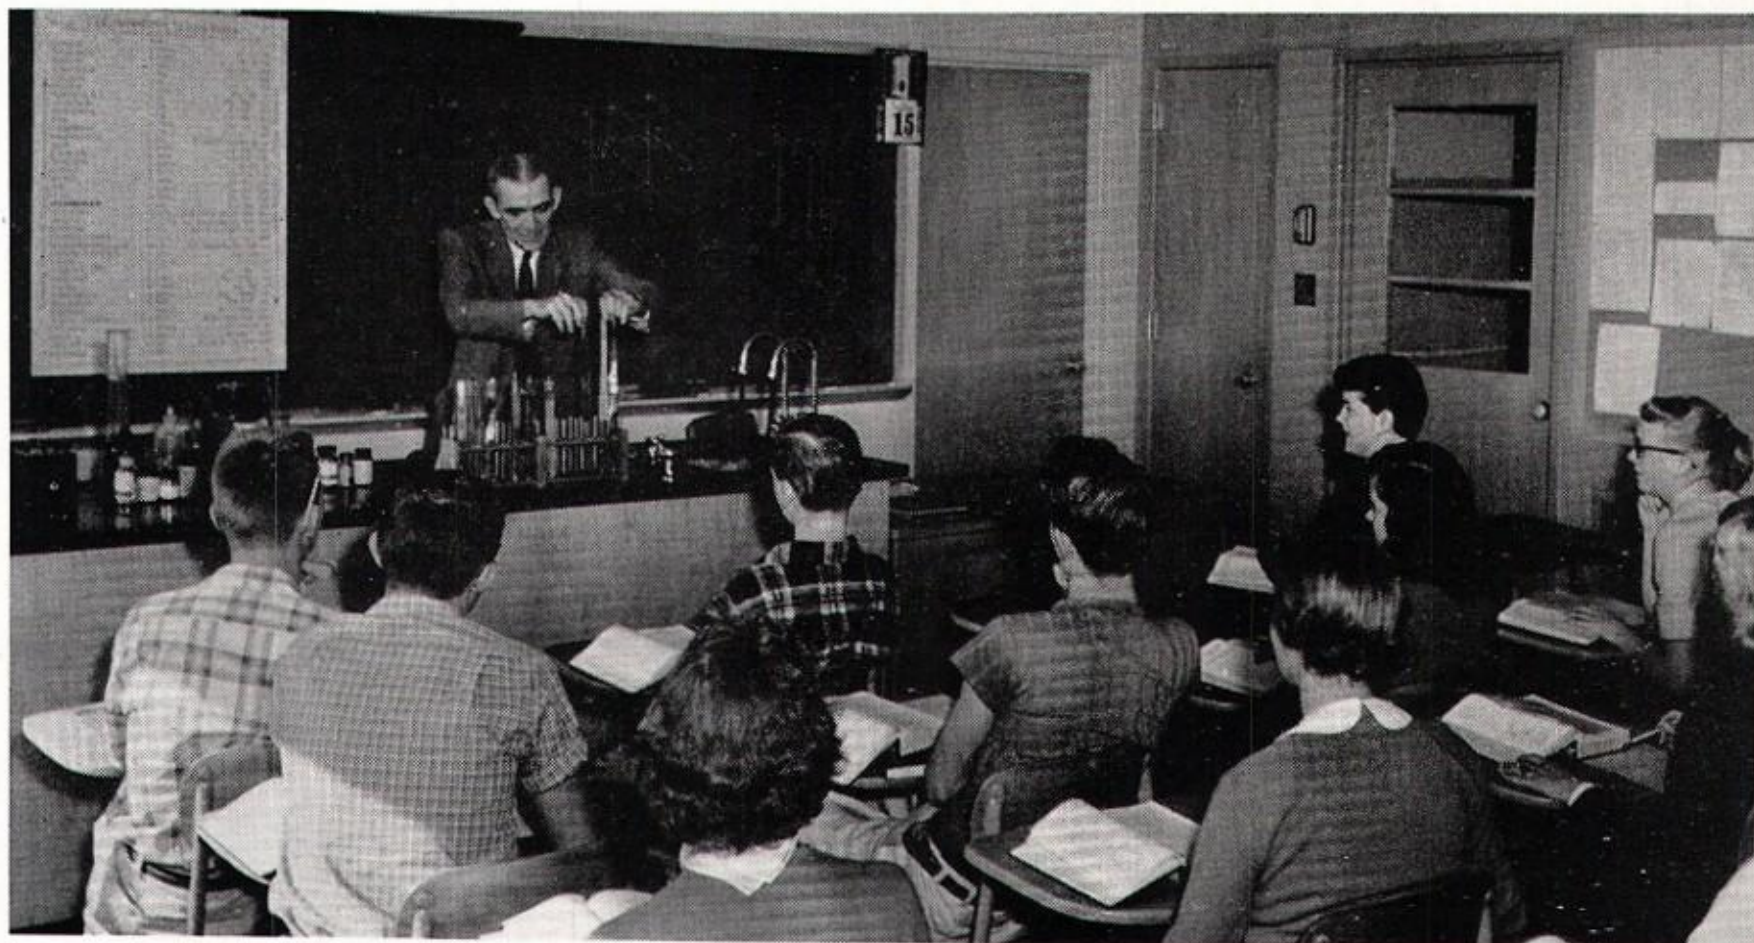

As Mr. Shekletski looks on, Ralph Engler explains a problem concerning loci to the solid geometry class.

In plane geometry class Mr. Cump proves to Peggy Jones and Robert Sawyer that the angles opposite equal sides of a triangle are equal.

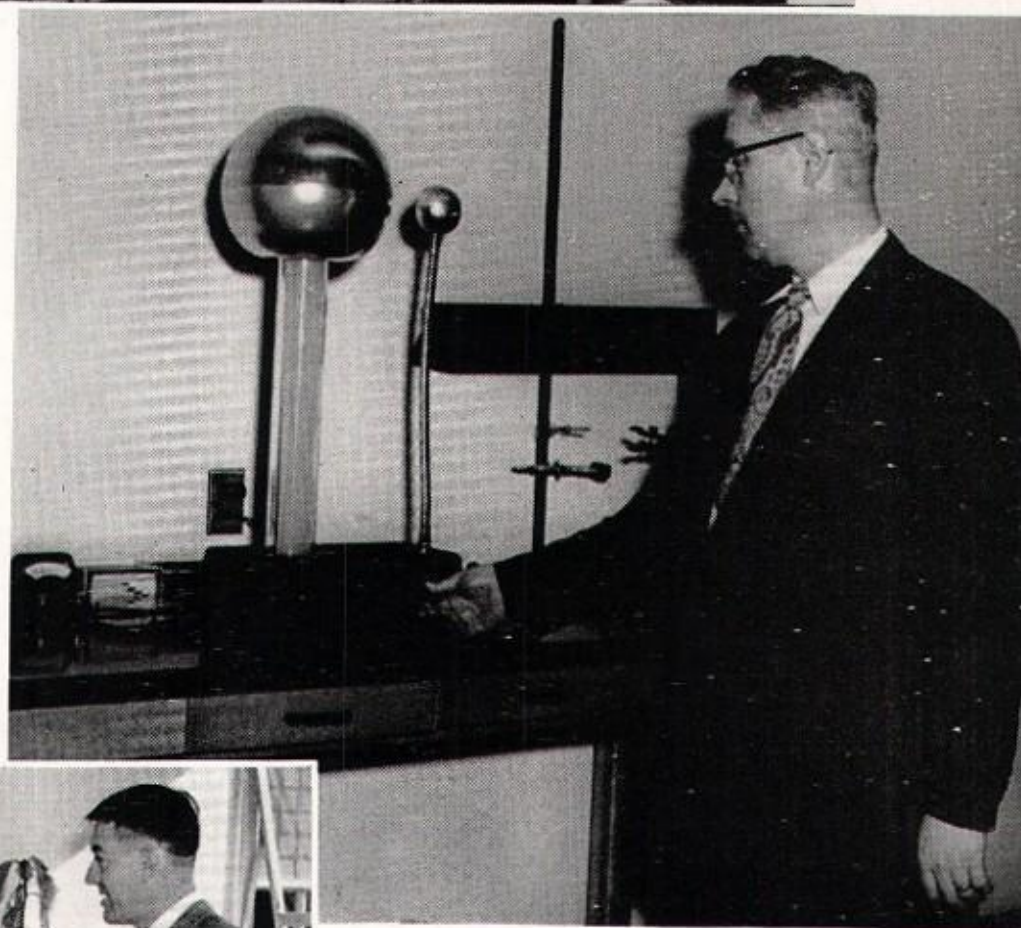

To Scientific Knowledge

3. To show how metals oxidize in certain solutions, Mr. Shekletski performs an experiment for one of his chemistry classes.

4. Demonstrating the physics department's new genatron, Mr. Kostenbader produces high charges of static electricity.

5. Preparing their poinsettia plants for biology projects, Gloria Buss, Janet Kern, and Sandra Kepple work in the solarium as Mr. Roth observes.

By-Paths To

1. To demonstrate the technique of being a gracious hostess to Frances Karlowitch, Miss Everitt serves Catherine Danner and Brenda Borger.

2. Under the direction of Miss Clute, some of the art students spray weeds and arrange them as attractive center pieces.

3. As Sylvia Feller and Stephen Oswald look on, William Tanzosh removes some enameled jewelry from the kiln.

Practical Living

4. With Loretta Garger as a subject, Brenda Male and Carol Reichard practice hair styling in homemaking class.

5. Using the table saw, Charles Minnich accurately cuts a board; John Ferretti makes a dovetail joint with the portable router; and Thomas Sleeman assembles a bookcase.

6. In Mr. Brock's Industrial Arts Class Melvin Rinker runs a board through the shaper; Blaine Mengel and Robert Rumsey shape a lamp base on the lathe; and Robert Recker smooths the edge of a board on the jointer.

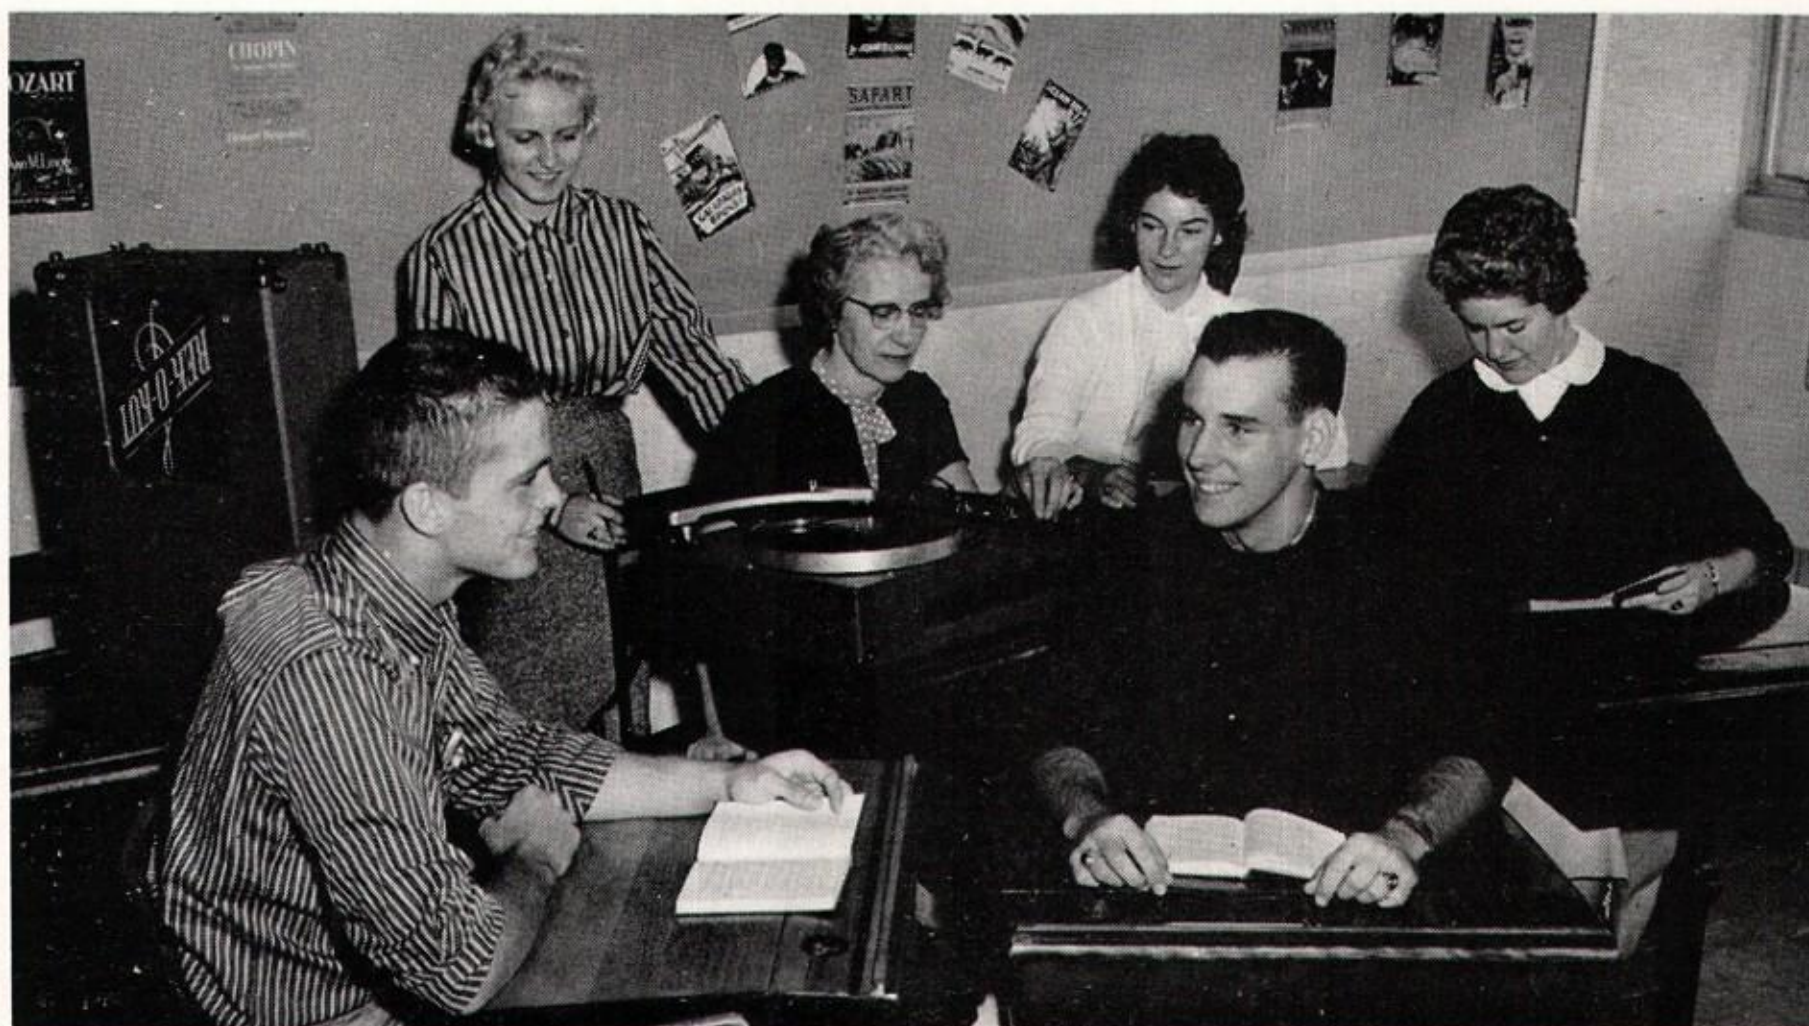

Learning

1. While Sandra Brobston and Gloria Mitman write Latin sentences on the blackboard, Mrs. McGonigle checks for errors.

2. Mrs. Brooks corrects grammar in a sophomore English class.

3. After reading Hamlet, Miss Sloat's senior English class enjoys listening to Maurice Evans' recordings of the play.

To Communicate

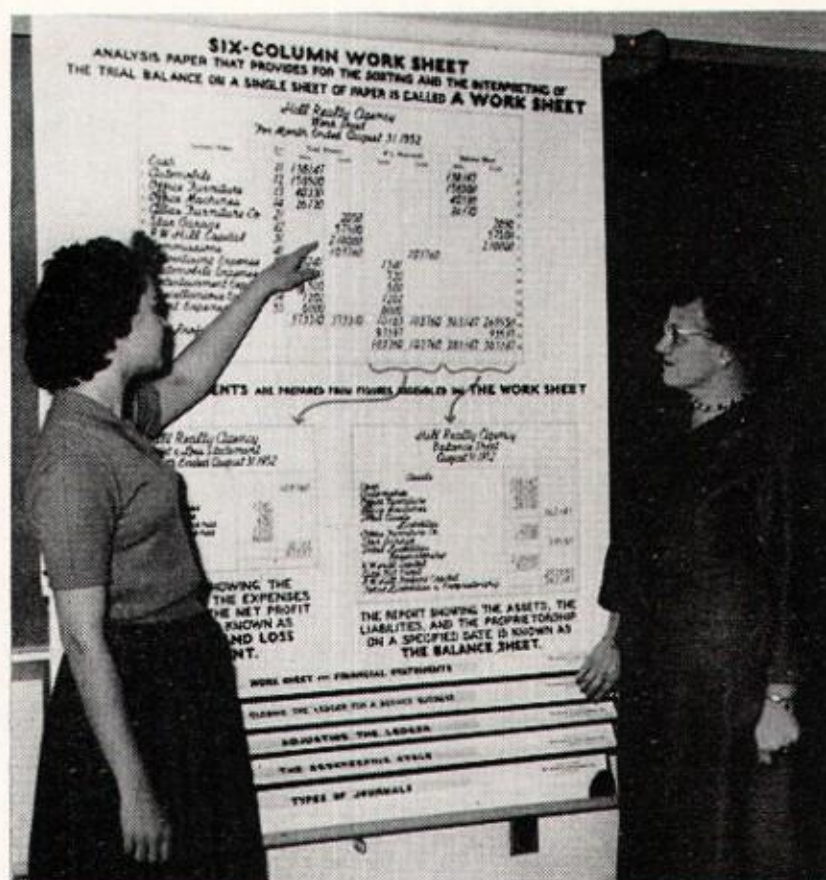

4. Using a literary map in an American Literature class, Mr. Knecht points out the area in which Mark Twain lived and wrote.

5. To make the Merchant of Venice more meaningful, Mr. Harding's sophomore English class dramatizes the play.

6. By listening to recordings, students in Mrs. McGonigle's class learn the correct pronunciation of German words.

Taking The Thruway

1. As Mrs. Metz looks on, Florence Hofer explains the work sheet in bookkeeping class.

2. While Shirley Magditch observes, Mrs. Graver explains the 10-key machine in office practice.

3. As Mrs. Graver prepares to play a dictation disc, Frances Karlowitch, Betty Hoffman, and Carol Heckman prepare to take dictation.

To Business

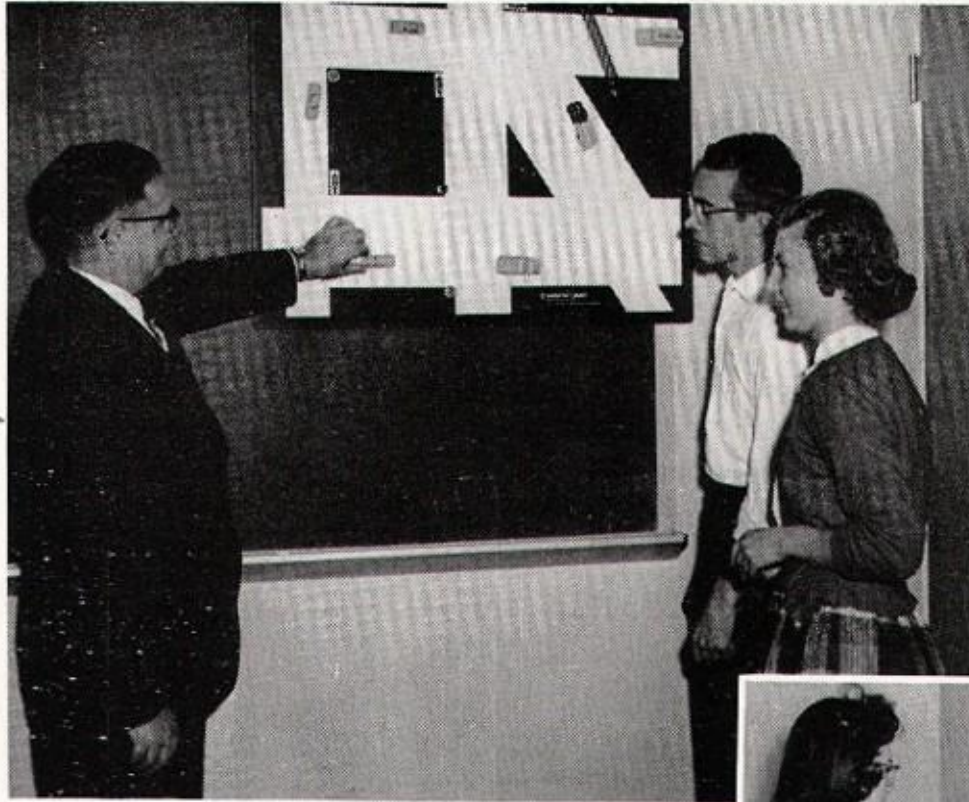

4. Under the guidance of Mrs. Kolessar, girls are putting General Business into practice.

5. Mrs. Graver emphasizes the rhythm technique on the full-bank machine to Florence Hofer in office practice.

6. Beginning typing students learn to operate the electric typewriters.

Preparing For Safe Living

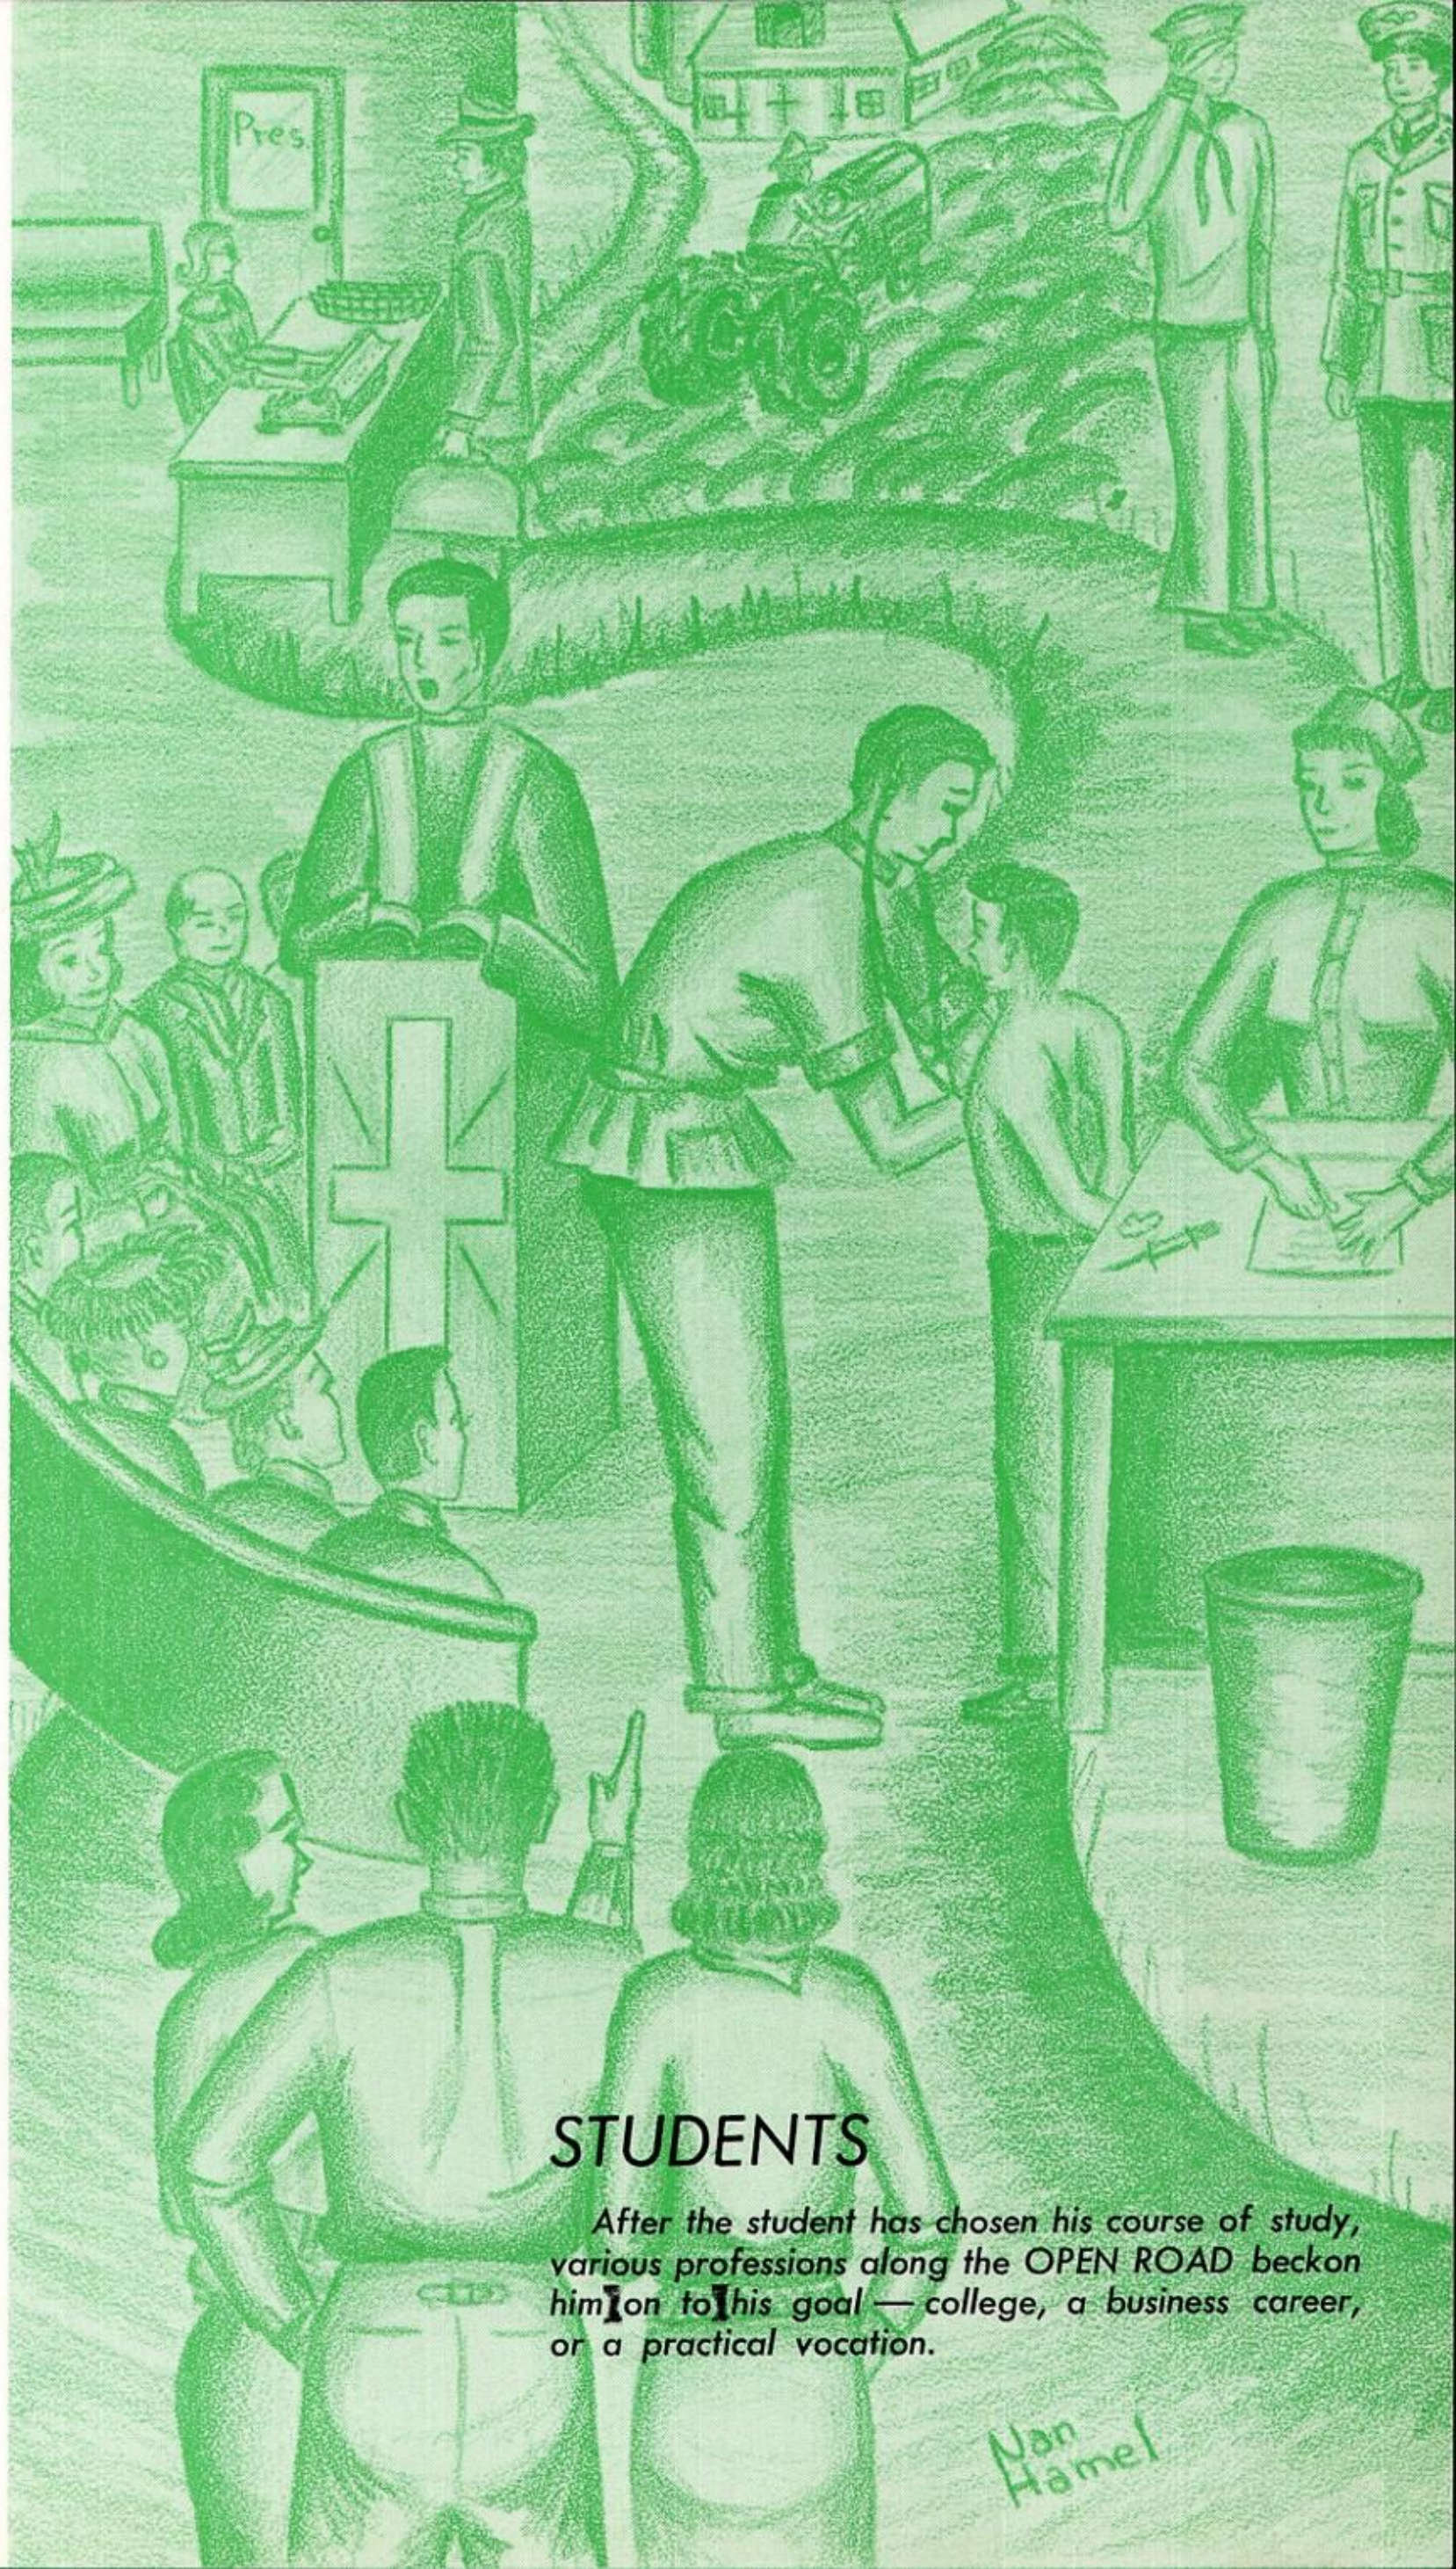

1. Using the driver's chart, Mr. Owens explains traffic regulations to James Flick and Roseann Paukovits in Driver Education class.

2. As Carl Smith awaits his turn, Mrs. Tintera, assisted by Loretta Garger, uses the chart to test Pat Sensenbach's eyes.

3. In a health class Pat Richards explains to Karen Breidinger the different parts of the skeletal system.

STUDENTS

After the student has chosen his course of study, various professions along the OPEN ROAD beckon him on to his goal — college, a business career, or a practical vocation.

ART STAFF

Recording our journey along the Open Road, The Comet, our Nazareth Area Senior High School yearbook, presents, by pictures and copy, our experiences during the year in the four curricular fields — College Preparatory, Secretarial, General Business, and Practical Arts.

Not only are the main highways of learning featured, but also the side roads of extra curricular activities including music, publications, clubs, and sports.

Our Journey

Members of the staff acquire valuable training in art, planning, writing and in business. In all phases of producing our year-book, probably the most valuable thing everyone learns is cooperation.

The advisers include Elizabeth Sloat, editorial, layout, and typing; Mrs. Belva Kolessar, business; and Jean Clute, art.

As we journeyed along the Open Road, the Blue and White Standard, our school newspaper, kept us informed on current happenings at Nazareth Area Senior High School. Our paper featured Student Council activities, clubs, sports, honor rolls, assembly programs, student achievements, and various school functions throughout the year.

Besides keeping us informed, the Blue and White was a means of providing practical training in writing for students interested in journalism.

The advisers are J. Frederic Knecht and Quentin Zell.

Dancing

With Over the Rainbow as their theme, the juniors entertained the seniors at the Annual Prom held on May 17, 1957. Dancing to the music of Mark Hilburn's Orchestra, many happy couples circled the Pot of Gold at the end of the rainbow.

After midnight the couples went by motorcade to the Hotel Easton for a full course dinner, a floor show, and more dancing, sponsored by the Nazareth Chamber of Commerce and the service organizations.

1. Prom Queen, Constance Bowers, and her Court—Shirley Stimmel, Sylvia Condomitti, Kay Michael, and Gail Sleeman.

2. The Prom Committee Chairmen included Kay Brong, Arthur Miller, Nancy Kindt, Conrad Shimer, Harriet Stofflet, George Herceg, and Lina Roth.

3. During intermission the students enjoyed punch and sandwiches.

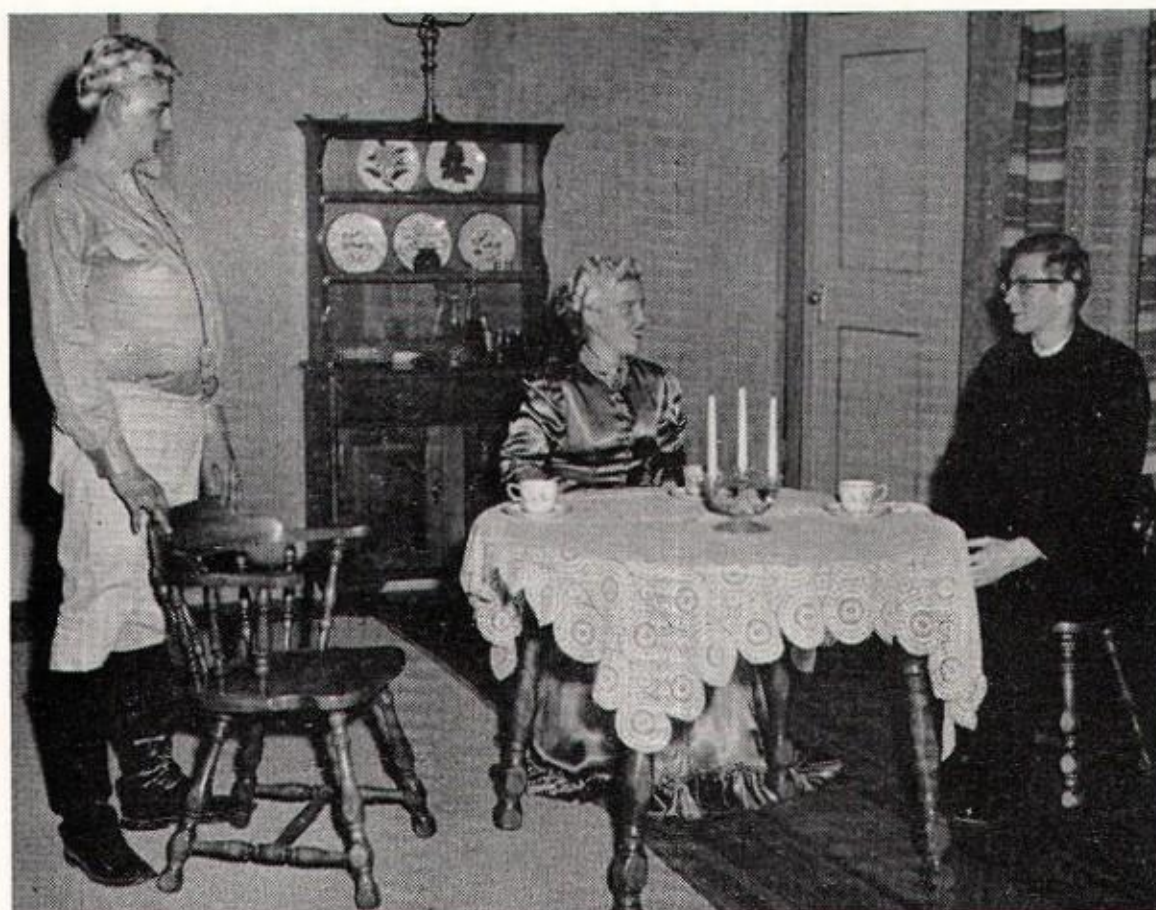

To the music of Mark Hilburn's Orchestra, gay and carefree couples dance around the Pot of Gold.

Guests move along the receiving line.

Arsenic and Old Lace, an odd yet laugh-provoking comedy in three acts, directed by Franklyn Kostenbader, was presented on November 22 and 23 as the annual senior class play.

Poisoning homeless, unsuspecting old gentlemen was the unusual activity of the two well-meaning and charming Brewster sisters—Abby and Martha. Their screwy nephew Teddy helped the sisters in their grewsome occupation by digging trench-graves in the cellar—to this self-styled Teddy Roosevelt, the Panama Canal.

After many poisonings and mirthful entanglements, Abby, Martha, and poor demented Teddy were content to spend the rest of their lives at Happy Dale, a mental home.

Arsenic And Old Lace

1. Teddy watches Abby entertain Reverend Harper at tea.

2. While Lieutenant Rooney and three officers survey the scene, Jonathan lies unconscious upon the floor.

3. As Dr. Einstein falls into a drunken sleep, Officer O'Hara recites his play to bound and gagged Mortimer.

4. The cast of Arsenic and Old Lace, clockwise: Anthony Ferraro, William Tanzosh, Edward Tintera, Robert Pritchard, William Clewell, Edward Timar, Kay Brong, Susan Beitel, Judy Reimer, Dale Butz, Larry Walter, John Schlegel, Stephen Moosch.

5. Discussing their theatre plans for the evening, Elaine and Mortimer chat.

6. The Brewster sisters entertain their final victim, the superintendent of a home for the mentally ill.

1. Included as part of the annual art exhibition held on May 10 are pencil sketches, sprayed floral arrangements, and miniature furnished rooms.

2. Robert Burritsch, Robert Lichner, and Paula Reber demonstrate the use of water colors during the art exhibition.

3. As students draw pencil sketches, Mary Ann Doyle poses stoically.

Displaying Art

4. Holding a place of honor in the lobby showcase is Claire Kostenbader's exhibit of her first year's work at the Tyler School of Art in Philadelphia.

5. While visitors watch, Delores Wambold fashions a clay bowl on the potter's wheel.

6. To show their skill Ronald Gori, Bill Tanzosh, and Edward Banny work on craft and metalwork.

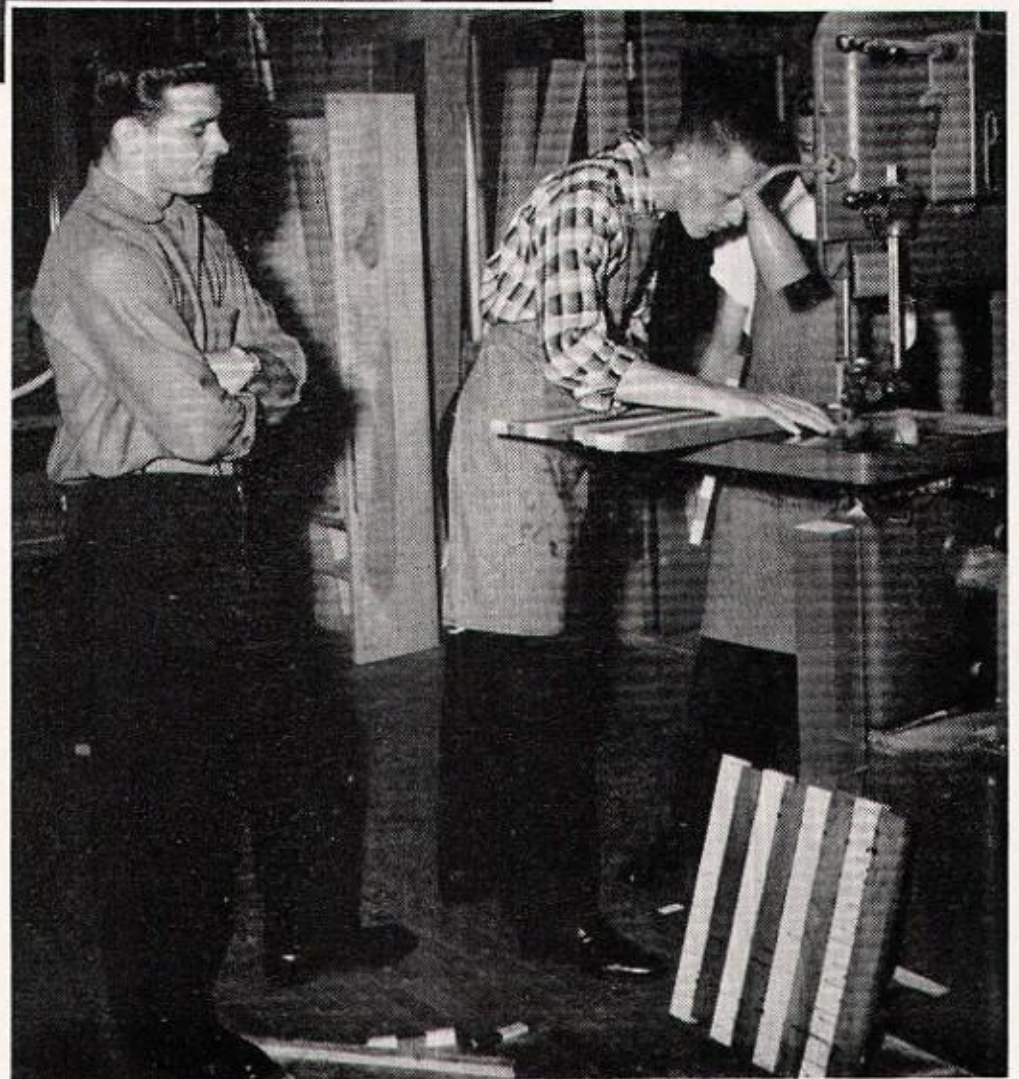

Demonstrating Our

1. During the annual Industrial Arts exhibition on May 10, John Ferretti demonstrates the jointer to interested spectators.

2. To make a chess board, Thomas Sleeman uses the hand saw.

Manual Skills

3. As visitors look on, Robert Hunt demonstrates wood turning on the high speed lathe.

4. Visitors inspect the handicraft of the shop classes during the annual exhibition.

Modeling Our Teenage Fashions

As a climax of the year's work, the Sewing Class presented a fashion show in the auditorium on May 10. The girls modeled the garments, including sports clothes, pajamas, party and school dresses, and formal wear, made as class projects.

1. While awaiting the arrival of her date, Marlene Teada models her blue sheath dress.
2. Wearing their bermuda shorts, Mae Butz and Brende Male are prepared for a tennis match.
3. In preparation for an afternoon tea Shirley Kemmerer poses in her checkered princess style dress.

Organized Activities Benefit Students

In order to raise money to support the Blue and White Standard, Dramatic Club, the Student Handbook, the Chess Team, College Night, assembly programs, and to buy library books, the annual Magazine Campaign held during October netted $6,008.06.

Paula Reber served as manager assisted by co-manager, Frances Karlowitch. Mrs. Bleiler was faculty adviser.

Organized in the fall of 1956, the Delphian Chapter of the Nazareth Honor Society held its first formal induction ceremony in February, 1957.

To attain membership a student must maintain a B average and have satisfactory citizenship, leadership, character, and service records. Sophomores are not eligible until the second semester.

To stimulate broader interests, several guests spoke to the group on timely topics at various times during the year.

1. Magazine Campaign Managers check over the morning receipts.
2. Members of the Delphian Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Students Display Talen

Sponsored by the Student Council, the annual Talent Show was held on March 15, with Labert Altemose as emcee.

LaRue Sandt and Judy Shankweiler won the first prize of $10 for their pantomime, Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better; Edward Tintera, second prize of $7.50 for the piano solo, Prelude in G Minor; and two third prizes of $5 each, for the Moonlighters' Combo number, In the Mood, and the pantomime Short Shorts.

Attorney Charles Shimer, Mrs. J. F. Knecht, Mrs. Edward Christman, Principal A. William Day, and Carl Remel served as judges.

Clubs Encourage Scientific Interests

Meeting each Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Mr. Shekletski, the ten-member Radio Club becomes acquainted with the principles of radio transmission and reception.

RADIO CLUB

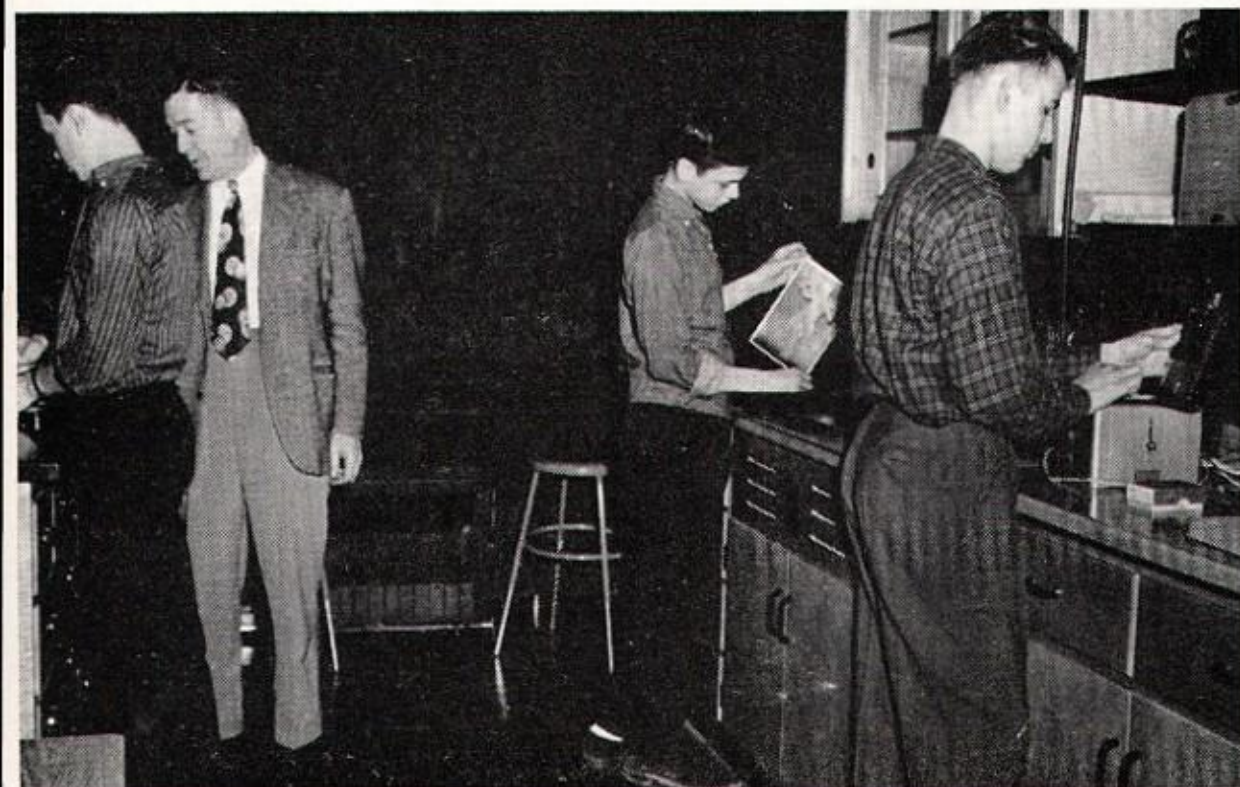

1. In Radio Club Mr. Shekletski fixes a connection while club members watch.

Learning how to project pictures on a screen is the aim of the twelve-member Projectionist Club which meets the eighth period each Wednesday under the guidance of Mr. Cump.

PROJECTIONIST CLUB

2. As members of the Projectionist Club look on, Mr. Cump adjusts the projector.

3. Under the direction of Mr. Roth, Bruce Burley, William Browne, and Darrell Mengel—members of the Photography Club—develop their pictures.

Under the supervision of Mr. Roth, the sixteen-member Photography Club takes, develops, prints, and enlarges still photographs; the advanced group also takes moving pictures and projects them for the club. Each member is expected to submit an entry to the Kodak National High School Photographic Contest.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

Club Interests Vary From Reading To Science

To develop reading skills, comprehension, and speed, the nineteen-member Reading Club meets the eighth period every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday under the supervision of Mrs. Brooks.

READING CLUB

4. Supervised by Mrs. Brooks, the Reading Club members work to increase their reading ability.

5. Betty Hoffman demonstrates to the Library Club members how to stamp the book cards properly.

Twenty-seven senior high school students entered exhibitions in the annual school Science Fair, displayed in the lobby of the F. A. Marcks Building from March 4 to 7.

The five student winners—Lorraine Buzas, Larry Mengel, Dorothy Dulac, Chester Stout, and Carol Getz—had their projects entered in the annual Lehigh Valley Science Fair, held April 16 to 18, in the Muhlenberg Field House, Allentown, Pa.

The judges included Adam Shekletski, Franklyn Kostenbader, and James Roth.

SCIENCE FAIR

6. Working on her Science Fair Project, Lorraine Buzas classifies the bacteria in a test tube.

Chess Arouses Competitive Spirit

Each Tuesday and Thursday Chess Club members practice new moves.

At the Tuesday and Thursday meetings of the Chess Club, Mr. Harding instructed beginners in the fundamentals of the game and later supervised competition within the group.

By practicing on Tuesdays and Thursdays and conducting meets on Wednesday the eighth period, the chess team finished a season of tough competition in the Penn-Jersey Interscholastic Chess League with a record of three wins and five losses.

Clubs Fulfill Many Needs

The twenty-two member First Aid Club, under the supervision of Mrs. McGonigle, meets every Wednesday to practice treatments for emergencies—artificial respiration, wounds, bleeding, and poisoning.

FIRST AID CLUB

The Future Teachers of America meet every Tuesday and Thursday during the eighth period under the direction of Richard Schmoyer. With the aid of movies, class discussion, college visitations, and speakers, these students are encouraged to enter the teaching profession.

FUTURE TEACHERS OF AMERICA

1. To correctly bandage a broken arm, Dorothy Silfies demonstrates the arm sling to the First Aid Club.
2. Future Teachers, under the guidance of Mr. Schmoyer, make recordings of their voices.

Clubs Develop Practical Skills

Supervised by Mrs. Bleiler, the twenty-member Knitting Club meets every Tuesday and Thursday to learn to knit useful household and personal items.

KNITTING CLUB

Under the supervision of Mr. Brock, the twenty-member Homemaking and Hobbies Club meets every Wednesday in the industrial arts room to discuss home maintenance. In addition to learning many aspects of home repair and improvement, each member works on a project of his choice.

HOMEMAKING & HOBBIES CLUB

Meeting each Tuesday and Wednesday under the guidance of Miss Everitt, the sixty-one member FHA Club emphasizes the importance of worthy home membership and works for good home and family life.

Nazareth FHA was host to the four-county region FHA at their annual meeting on October 12, 1957.

FHA CLUB

Students Produce Plays

The forty-five member Dramatic Club, under the direction of Mrs. Zell, presented five one act plays as assembly programs.

The aim of the Dramatic Club is to give each member an opportunity to appear in at least one stage production and to learn general stage techniques.

The Christmas play, Not Even a Mouse, was presented in arena style in the gym. Four other plays—Wilber's Wild Night, Along Came Harriet, Johnny Takes the Cake, and It's the Doctor—were presented with students directing the cast.

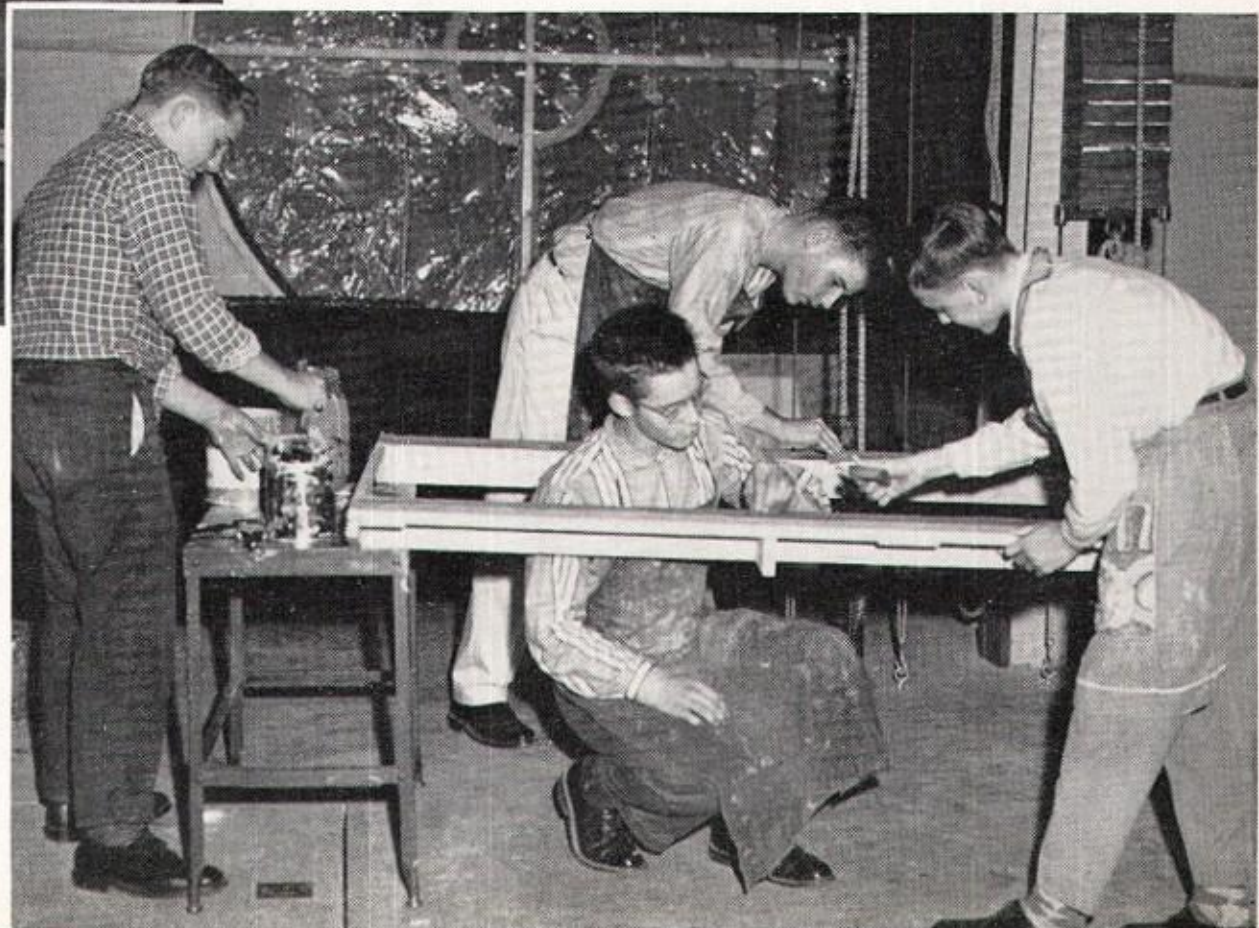

DRAMATIC CLUB

After working two years on the project, the twenty-eight member Stagecraft Club, under the direction of Miss Clute and Mr. Brock, finished an interior home setting this year.

The club also prepared the stage settings for the Christmas program, Arsenic and Old Lace, the Band Concert, H.M.S. Pinafore, and the Dramatic Club plays.

STAGECRAFT CLUB

1. As Mr. Brock watches, members of the Homemaking and Hobby Club work on their projects.
2. Under the supervision of Mrs. Bleiler, several members of the Knitting Club demonstrate different techniques.
3. Directed by Miss Everitt, the FHA Club adds the finishing touches to its Christmas corsages.
4. The Dramatic Club wraps packages used for its Christmas Assembly.
5. With Mr. Brock supervising, Stagecraft members place the set for Arsenic and Old Lace.
6. Several members of the Stagecraft Club paint a door frame for Arsenic and Old Lace.

Alumni Visit The Open Road

1. Carl Remel sings Danny Boy for the Nazareth High Day Assembly.
2. Playing the piano for Alumni Day is James Burley, Marty Miles of the radio.
3. Guest speaker for Nazareth High Day was Walter Kemmerer, a 1920 graduate.
4. Kay Michael serves punch and cookies to Alumni Day guests.
5. Alumni enjoy lunch in the cafeteria.

Walter W. Kemmerer, a 1920 graduate of NHS and the former president of the University of Texas, was the guest speaker at Nazareth High Day, held on May 10.

Twelve of the seventeen NHS graduates of 1920 were the special guests of the school at a luncheon and an afternoon tea.

The other alumni participants in the afternoon assembly included Carl Remel, James Burley, and Mrs. John Byrnes.

That night a fashion show, art exhibition, and a dance were held for alumni and students.

SPORTS

The many sport byways along the OPEN ROAD provide the student a means of physical development and, at the same time, are a means of learning cooperation and good sportmanship.

Blue Eagles Capture

Finishing with an 8-2 record, the Blue Eagles ended the season as co-champions of the Lehigh-Northampton League.

In the first game of the season Nazareth defeated Governor Mifflin High School by a score of 37-6. Larry Mengel led the Eagles to victory by scoring three touchdowns, two of them on pass interceptions.

Nazareth successfully opened their defense of the Lehigh-Northampton League crown by defeating Hellertown 27-6. Connie Shimer paced the Blue Eagle attack by passing for two of the four touchdowns.

Revening last year's only defeat, the Eagles met and downed a strong Nesquehoning team 19-13. After a scoreless first half, Barry Woolbert ran back the second half opening kick-off for an 80 yard touchdown. Woolbert also scampered 26 yards for another touchdown in the final quarter.

In the second league game of the season the Blue Eagles romped over Parkland for a 45-12 win. Shimer again paved the way for Nazareth by passing for two touchdowns and running for a third. Barry Woolbert also scored twice for the Eagles.

Meeting an undefeated Hackettstown, N. J., eleven in place of flu-ridden Palmerton, the Blue Eagles' 12 game winning streak was broken by the score of 13-6. Shimer scored the lone Nazareth touchdown on a quarterback sneak.

Moving again into league competition, Nazareth came back strong to whip Pen Argyl 40-0. In this game Larry Lewis scored two touchdowns while Connie Shimer scored one and passed for another.

Coaches Owens, Amoroso, Leh, and Christman

Wading through the mud of Bangor Memorial Stadium, Nazareth defeated the Slaters 39-0 for their fourth straight Lehigh-Northampton League triumph. Barry Woolbert led the Eagles to victory by scoring three touchdowns.

Palmerton was the next Nazareth victim as the Blue Eagles crushed them 29-0. A strong Nazareth line held the Blue Bombers to a meager 20 yards rushing. Larry Lewis stood out on offense, scoring three out of the four Nazareth touchdowns.

Nazareth, in a definite letdown before the Wilson contest, lost their only league game of the season to East Stroudsburg, 18-12. Both of Nazareth's touchdowns were scored in the final quarter as the result of Shimer's passing.

In the Turkey Day game the Eagles met Wilson and downed the Warriors 14-6. Fighting with their backs to the wall for the first three periods, Nazareth's offense finally got rolling after Wilson scored their first and last touchdown. After a combined ground and aerial attack moved the ball to the 4 yard line, Larry Lewis took a pitch-out and skirted left end for the score. A pass from Woolbert to Shimer gave Nazareth the extra point and a 7-6 lead.

After Einfalt's interception of a Wilson pass, Nazareth again began a scoring drive. This drive was climaxed by a five yard touchdown heave from Shimer to Bobby Arndt. Gostony caught a Shimer pass for the extra point, making the final score 14-6, and giving Nazareth a league co-championship with East Stroudsburg and Wilson.

In a post-season meeting Barry Woolbert and George Herceg were elected honorary co-captains for the 1957 season.

VARSITY BASKETBALL SQUAD

After dropping the first six contests on their 1957-1958 schedule, the Blue Eagle Cagers won 10 of their remaining 15 games to finish the season with 10 wins and eleven losses. Nine of these victories were scored over Lehigh-Northampton League opponents.

Finally breaking into the win column with a 56-50 victory over East Stroudsburg, the Blue Eagles continued winning with victories over Pen Argyl, Phillipsburg, Bangor, and Hellertown before losing to Parkland, the second half champions.

Bouncing back in good form, Nazareth smashed Fountain Hill, 69-50, and followed this up with their biggest victory of the year, the upset of a highly favored Wilson Borough team. To climax a thrilling game in which the lead changed hands several times, Tommy Buss dropped in a lay-up with a few seconds remaining in the contest to give Nazareth a 54-52 victory.

During the 1957-1958 season Connie Shimer led the Blue Eagles in scoring with a total of 357 points. He was followed by Larry Lewis, who scored 183 points, and Tommy Buss with 175 points.

Shimer was also top rebounder on the squad pulling in a total of 271 points.

Tommy Buss had the best foul shooting average, scoring on 63% of his shots.

In addition to his team honors, Shimer, the fifth highest scorer in the league, was chosen as one of the first five on the Lehigh-Northampton All-League Team with Tommy Buss receiving honorable mention.

In a post season meeting Larry Lewis was elected honorary captain for the 1957-58 season.

Eagerly Dick Hunt awaits the next pitch

Composed largely of underclassmen, the inexperienced Blue Eagles found the going rather rough during the 1957 baseball season. The final record was three wins and nine losses. The three victories were scored over Lehigh-Northampton League opponents.

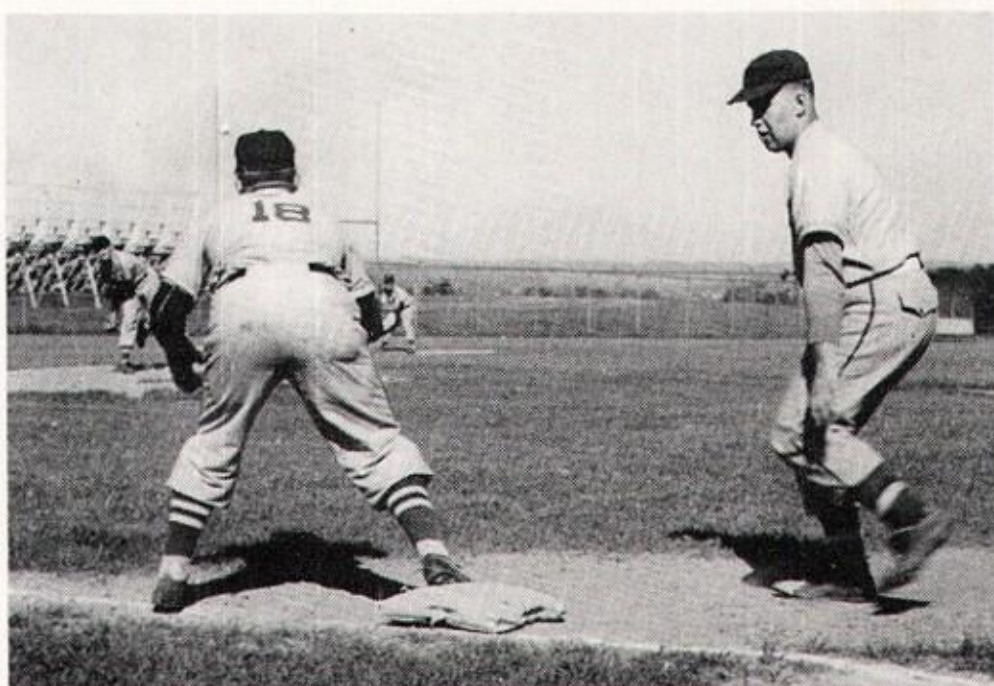

1. Larry Deutsch executes a put-out in the Palmerton game.
2. To prevent a double play on a pop-fly bunt, Dick King slides back into first base

Dropping the first game of the season to Whitehall, the Eagles bounced back to defeat Bangor 7-6 in the next game. The leading batsman for Nazareth was Richard Werkheiser, who went 3 for 4, slamming a double and a triple.

After losing to Pen Argyl, the Blue Eagles again met and downed Bangor 3-1. Connie Shimer pitched a sharp two-hitter in defeating the Slaters.

Finishing off the season in good form, the Blue Eagles defeated Fountain Hill by a score of 5-3. Dick King led Nazareth to victory with his third home run of the season.

Connie Shimer, who won three games while losing three, led the pitching squad with an earned run average of 1.58. Dick Hunt, first string catcher, had the highest accumulated batting average for the season, hitting .444.

TRACK SQUAD

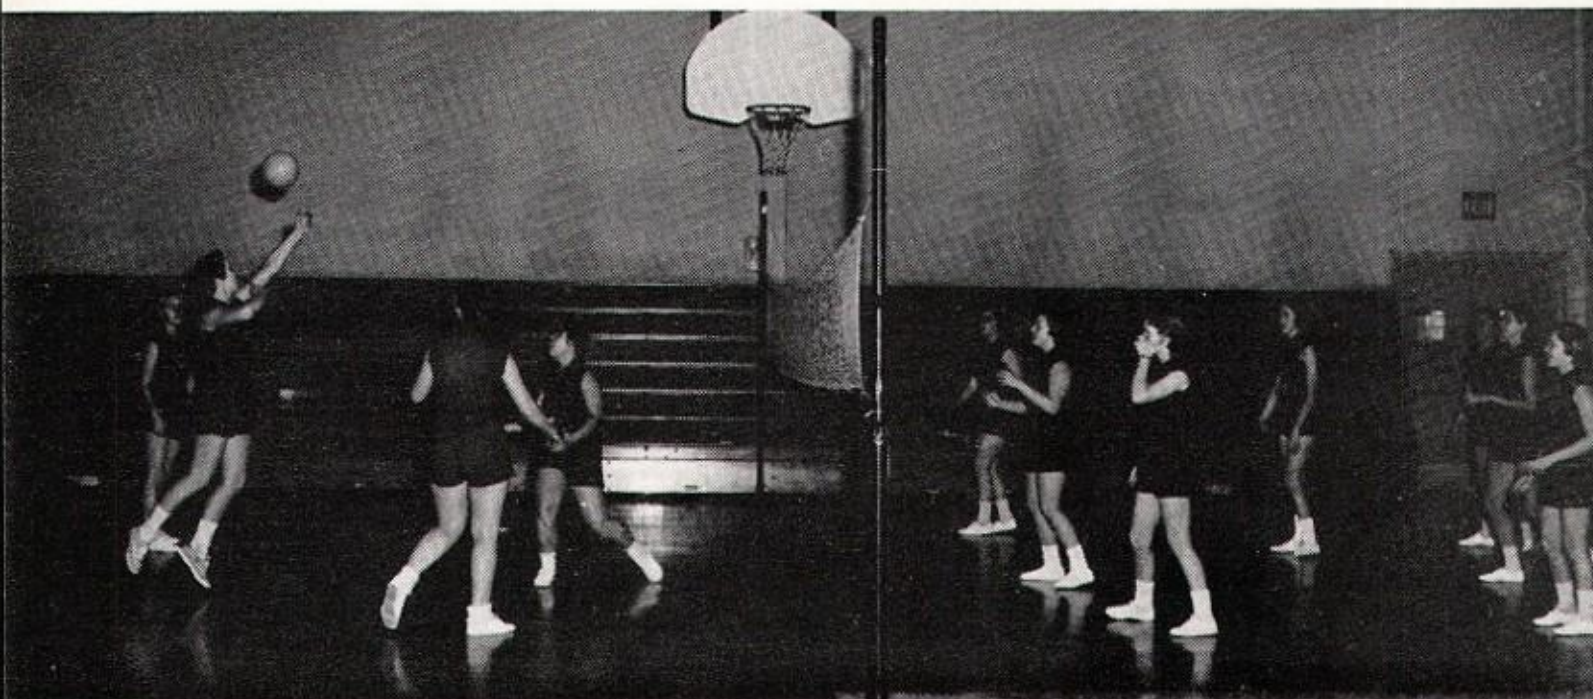

Girls' Athletic Club Affords Exercise And Enjoyment

To develop skills and good sportsmanship, the 65 member Girls' Athletic Club, supervised by Miss Stewart, meets every Wednesday and Thursday during the eighth period.

This year the sports program for the club included basketball, hockey, volleyball, and softball, as well as gymnastics and other games. By participating in these sports and helping the club carry out its various activities, the girls are able to earn their athletic letters, requiring a total of 900 points.

1. While enthusiastic teammates look on, Paula Kline and Nancy Kindt battle for a jump ball.
2. Assisted by spotters, Gail Roth springs to the top of the Swedish box.

3. A close volleyball game proves exciting as the girls enthusiastically battle to keep the ball in the air.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

Sponsored by the Nazareth High School Alumni Association and coached by Mrs. Ruth McGonigle, the annual Oratorical Contest was held on March 3, 1958, at 1:00 o'clock as an assembly program.

Marilyn Morgan won the first place award; Susan Beitel, second; Judith Byrnes, third; and Joyce Schultz, honorable mention. The other contestants were Paula Reber, Arthur Scola, Patricia Stimmel, and Dorothy Silfies.

The judges were Dr. Edward Sawyer, pastor of the Nazareth Moravian Church, Attorney Raymond DeRaymond and Mrs. Glenn Young.

As part of the Office Practice program, five local business groups—the Lone Star, Penn Dixie, and Nazareth Cement Companies, and the Nazareth National Bank and Trust and the Second National Bank—cooperated by providing an office visitation for the thirty-two seniors in Mrs. Graver's Office Practice classes.
